EspacesTemps.net wishes you a happy festive season and the Editorial Committee takes this opportunity to thank you for your loyalty. Thanks to you, EspacesTemps.net continues to draw some 40'000 visits every month and receives an ever increasing number of suggested articles.

2013 is looking to be full of novelties ! From January 2013, EspacesTemps.net will have a new design and page layout, offering new possibilities and a bilingual navigation. We look forward to receiving your comments and suggestions on how to further improve these new devices.

2013 will kick off with the Printanièrss on may. This event unites the Editorial Committee and EspacesTemps.net's contributors to discuss the editorial project of the review, its overall direction and its position in the social sciences field. This get-together is also a great opportunity to debate current issues and to invite external specialists so as to stimulate exchanges with other disciplines and sources of knowledge.

The New Year, as usual, will also provide a good opportunity to launch new projects and new Traverses, and to publish awaiting articles. We very much look forward to receiving your proposals.

Finally, due to the festive season, EspacesTemps.net takes a small break. All publications will return at a normal rhythm strating from Monday 21st of January 2013.
